A Home Away From Home . . . Dancing Through Life!

PRIVATE LESSON CANCELLATION POLICY

Lessons can be cancelled at any point up to one week before the date of the scheduled lesson date without penalty, as this allows the studio and the instructor an appropriate amount of time for rescheduling other students.

Lessons that are cancelled within one week of the scheduled lesson date must still be paid in full.

Occasional absences due to illness or emergency will be pardoned at the discretion of the studio based on cancellation history.

If your child becomes ill near his or her lesson day, please attempt to contact the studio and/or the instructor immediately.

If your private lesson is a duo or involves multiple students, and if one of the students cancels, the lesson will be held at the discretion of the studio and/or instructor and the student(s) who planned to be in attendance at the lesson.

If the studio and/or the instructor cancels lessons or attempts to reschedule without success on our behalf, there will be no penalty. These circumstances will also be assessed as close to one week out from the lesson date as possible.
